

Directions

The Charles River Museum of Industry & Innovation is located at 154 Moody Street in Waltham, MA 02453. The museum, which is located in the historic 1814 Boston Manufacturing Company textile mill complex, the first modern factory in the world, features exhibits that explore the great inventions of the Industrial Revolution, including steam engines, generators, watches, bicycles, automobiles, and their inventors.

For more information about the Museum of Industry, please visit their website at <http://www.crimi.org>.

Public Transportation Directions

All trains and buses stop at Waltham Common park, which is a short walk from the Museum of Industry & Innovation. For more information and current schedules, visit www.mbtta.com. Please see below for walking directions.

MBTA Commuter Train

From Boston:

Take the Fitchburg-Gardner line from North Station to Waltham Station, about a 25 minute ride. According to the MBTA website, on Saturdays there are outbound trains on this line departing at 11:20a.m. and 1:20p.m. from North Station, and inbound trains departing at 2:53p.m. and 3:48p.m. from Waltham Station.

MBTA Bus

Bus lines # 70, 70A, 170, 505 Express, 553/554, and 556/558 all stop at Waltham Common.

From Train & Bus Stop:

Driving Directions

From I-95/Route 128, take exit 26 (Route 20 east). Merge onto Route 20 East toward Waltham and travel for approximately 1.6 miles. At the 7th set of lights, turn right onto Moody Street (the street before Waltham Common park). Follow Moody Street over the railroad tracks and across the bridge over the Charles River. After the bridge, turn left at the first set of lights onto Pine Street. Turn left on Cooper Street, just past the Embassy Theater. You will see a sign for the City of Waltham/Embassy Municipal Parking Lot.

Park your car in the Municipal parking lot. There is no cost for parking. Follow the footpath and cross the footbridge over the Charles River. Take a right on the brick walkway (keeping the river to your right) and proceed to the museum entrance at the end of the walkway. There will be signs for the Museum of Industry & Innovation and the Math Expo.
